"The South 40"

There were three factors that played a dominant role in last week's yearling sale: record number of cattle on hand, high grain costs, and tight money supply.

It looks like a long fall in-so-far-as cattle prices are concerned.

Last Thursday 910 steers were sold; only 395 were Angus steers. Last year 897 steers were sold and 443 were Angus breeding.

This is the trend we will see continuing - more crossbred cattle. It would seem that cattlemen in other counties are moving in this direction faster than Appomattox producers.

Chestnut are falling. The major problem with this nut is the chestnut weevil. We've had some calls about how to handle the problem. There are two approaches; I'll outline them and you take your choice.

Deewitt Evans tells me that they have been pleased with freezing chestnut.

Take a sharp knife and make a small opening in the hull to allow expansion.

Bring water to a boil and drop nuts in for 5 minutes.

Drain in a colander.

While hot, remove the shell and the inner skin will slip readily.

Put nuts on wax paper and spread one nut deep on cookie sheet and freeze. After nuts are frozen they may be stored bulk in a plastic bag.

If you are not interested in freezing but only want to store the nuts and kill the weevil: sort the nuts into 3 sizes - large, medium, and small - and put each size separately in a cloth bag. Put the nuts in hot water and keep the temperature at 120 degrees, using a thermometer. Remove the smaller nuts after 25 minutes, the medium size after 35 minutes, and the large nuts after 45 minutes. Do not allow the temperature to go above 120°F because overheating destroys eating and keeping qualities and prevents germination of the seeds. Immediately after the treatment, spread the nuts in a thin layer in an open shed or attic to dry and cure for 2 or 3 days.

They should be refrigerated after curing. Mosture content is necessary because wet chestnuts may mold and dry nuts are inedible. Freezer bags are excellent containers when tied at the top.

Now milking parlor designs publicity is misleading. Milking rates claimed, in cows per hour, are probably theoretical. Look for the "hidden man" - - he may be chasing cows into the parlor. Herringbone designs (double-4 or double-8) compare well with new designs and are simple.

Mt. Zion News

Mr. and Mrs. Bass Ferguson are very thankful to God for their nine children and also for their working in the church. Mrs. Ferguson has worked very hard raising them up in a Christian home, church, choir and everything containing a Christian life. She has done her best with the help of God.

The fourth Sunday in August Gwen Ferguson was the organist of her brother's church in New York. James Ferguson was the Liturgist, his wife, Roberta, Lewis Ferguson and children work in the church, too. His pastor and family from New York spent the night with Roberta Womack after which they camped awhile at Holiday Lake. C. D. Ferguson helped lift the offering at Mt. Airy Church the 1st Sunday in September. Gwen enjoyed her stay in New York also the airplane ride. I hope and pray to God my children will continue on in his name.

Parade Planned For Railroad Festival

The second annual Historic Appomattox Railroad Festival to be held on October 12th and October 13th will open with a parade at 10 a.m. with Governor Mills Godwin serving as Grand Marshall.

The Festival is being co-sponsored by the Appomattox Junior Woman's Club and the Town of Appomattox.

The parade will feature historic themes and clubs, businesses and individuals are invited to enter in the parade, according to Mrs. Richard Paris, committee chairman of the parade. Entries will be judged based on originality, creativeness, and the presentation of an historic theme.

Floats may emphasize the American Revolution Bicentennial, the Civil War Period, or Early Days of the Railroad. A number of bands will be featured in the parade including the United States Continental Army Band with period 1825 color guard.

Civic clubs, businesses or individuals desiring to participate in the parade should contact Mrs. Paris at 352-5701 after 3:30 p.m. or fill out and send in the entry blank below. Housing will be available for out-of-town entries.

Union Baptizing Services Sunday At Promiseland

Union baptizing services will be conducted this Sunday morning at 10 a.m. at the Promise Land Baptist Church. Candidates from the Mount Shiloh and Galilee Churches along with two candidates from the Mount Obed Church will be baptized. The pastor of the church will conduct the service. Members are cordially invited to attend and take an active part in the service throughout the morning worship. The regular morning worship will begin at 11 a.m. and will be followed by the Holy Communion Service. The public is cordially invited to attend.

An overflow crowd of relatives and friends attended the funeral services for the late Mrs. Gracie Daniels Gibson at the Ch~stnut Grove Baptist Church Monday evening at 4 p.m. The Rev. R. G. Lawing delivered the eulogy. The newly elected pastor of the church, Rev. K. W. Davis served as master of ceremony. Music was furnished by a combined choir of friends. Resolutions were read from the church and its auxiliaries. Mrs. Gibson died suddenly at her home early last Friday morning. In addition to her husband she leaves the following to mourn their loss. A father, three brothers and four sisters and a host of other relatives and friends. Burial was held in the family plot in the church cemetery. The flowers were in the hands of Mrs. Ward Agee and Mrs. Hoke charge of arrangements.

An appreciative crowd attended the pre-Hayes Day service at the Promise Land Baptist Church last Sunday evening at 3 p.m. The Rev. Raymond Turner and his St. Mark Baptist Church were the special guest. Rev. Turner was accompanied by his deacons, choir and ushers. The service was very impressive. The offering was lifted by deacons Hancock, Jasper Thornton and George Harvey. The sermon was well planned and delivered. All present accepted the message as a great challenge. The pastor of the church introduced Rev. Turner and gave some helpful remarks.

A large crowd attended the regular morning service at the Galilee Baptist Church last Sunday morning. Beautiful music was rendered by the senior choir. All present enjoyed the service.

Don't forget your contribution to the leaders in the state rally sponsored by the local chapter of the NAACP. The final program will be held at the Jordan Baptist Church on the second Sunday in October at 3 p.m.

The Appomattox Assembly has a supply of cook books on hand. Each representative is selling these books for the benefit of the Assembly. Members and friends are asked to purchase one of these books. The book has a number of recipes for good family cooking from all over the state of Virginia. The books retail for $2.00. We trust everyone will purchase one.

The eighteenth anniversary of the Appomattox Trumpteers will be observed at the Appomattox Intermediate school last Sunday evening was a great success. The crowd was unusually large. The program was enjoyed by all. A covered dish supper was held in the school cafeteria prior to the program. Everyone expressed satisfaction over the program.

Regular evening services will be held at the Mount Shiloh Baptist Church this coming Sunday evening at 7 p.m. The local junior choir will render special music. Officers, members and friends are requested to attend.

State Fair Features Livestock, Crop Shows

Livestock shows and judging awards are highlights of the 1974 State Fair of Virginia, to be held in Richmond for eleven full days and nights, September 19 through 29. There are 25 departments with premium offerings of over $108,000.

The poultry and pigeon shows will feature exhibits of fancy and colorful breeds. There will be thousands of entries of large poultry, bantams, ducks, geese and turkeys to compete for premiums in over two hundred classes. Judges will be John Driner, Jr. of Pennsylvania and Hal Holt of North Carolina.

The pigeon show is sponsored by the Tidewater Fancy Pigeon Club and judges are Mel Johnson and C. E. Zigler of Richmond and C. E. Raffensgerger of Pennsylvania. Pigeons will be on display throughout the entire period of the Fair.

Six breeds will compete in the sheep and wool industry shows with over $8,000 in premiums. Judging will take place Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24 and 25 for Dorsets, Southdowns, Stropshires, Cheviots, Hampshires and Suffolk breeds. Judge will be A.T. Newberry of Bland: A "Wool on Parade" and Junior Lamb Show will be staged Sunday, September 22 and will include a shearing demonstration, breed parade, junior showmanship and made of wool fashion show. Also a costume class and ladies lead-line class.

Several hundred young people will make up 4-H and FFA teams that will compete in agricultural events of the State Fair. 4-H teams will give illustrated lectures on the care of horses, dogs and other pets. FFA boys and girls will demonstrate the care and repair of home appliances and machines.

Safe driving is sound economy, too, says the Tire Industry Safety Council. For longer tire life don't drive too fast, don't corner hard, aim away from chuck holes and other obstructions and avoid abrupt starts and stops.

* * *

Replacement tires should never be smaller than the tires supplied with a car as original equipment, advises the Tire Industry Safety Council. A smaller size may effect ground clearance, instrument accuracy and the suspension system of the car.
